Policy on Drug Use and Testing

Administration of any drug of any kind or description internally or externally is prohibited, except for treating a recognized disease or injury as prescribed by a licensed veterinarian. For the purpose of these rules, the term “drug” shall mean any substance, the sale, possession or use of which is controlled by license under federal, state or local laws or regulations and any substance commonly used by the medical or veterinary professions which affect the circulatory, respiratory, or central nervous systems of any animal. The use of any diuretic, tranquilizers or anti-inflammatory drugs for any purpose whatsoever on any animal in the show is prohibited. Show management reserves the right to take blood, milk, tissue and/or urine samples for analysis. Any animal entered is subject to testing.

The administration of any drug of any kind or description internally or externally for the treatment of a disease or injury must be done in accordance with regulations established by the United States Food and Drug Administration.

Any animal exhibited in a market or breeding class being treated with a prescription or over-the-counter medication (the use of any diuretic, tranquilizers or anti-inflammatory drugs for any purpose whatsoever on any animal in the show is prohibited) that has not completed its recommended withdrawal time must be accompanied by an original, complete veterinary prescription. This prescription must be provided to management upon request at any time during the show and will be required at the time of residue testing if that animal is selected. The prescribed medication(s) must be approved for the use on the treated animal.

The exhibitor shall be the absolute insurer of and shall be responsible for the condition of the animal(s) exhibited, regardless of the acts of a third party. Extent of knowledge on the part of the exhibitor with regards to the drugs or substance found in an animal is not relevant to any issue, and it shall not be a defense that person or persons unknown introduced the prescribed substance into the animal prior to, or at arrival on the show grounds.

Should testing and inspection procedures used by the show evidence the presence of a foreign substance or drug that exceed established tolerance levels, is not medically necessary or not approved for such use by the Food and Drug Administration or United States Department of Agriculture, the exhibitor, a member of the exhibitor’s family or any other person shown to have had care, custody, or attendance of the animal in any way, at the discretion of show management, may be subjected to the penalties provided for in these rules. Following investigation by the appropriate agencies, the exhibitor is subject to the following penalties at the discretion of show management:

The exhibitor will be banned from competing at future livestock competitions for all species at the Georgia National Junior Livestock Show and the Georgia National Fair for twelve (12) months or one complete show year (whichever is greater) from rule infraction.

After the twelve (12) month or one complete show year (whichever is greater) suspension has been completed, the exhibitor will then be placed on probation for twenty-four (24) months or two show years (whichever is greater). During this probation period, management reserves the right to residue test any/all entries of the individual on probation that are entered at either the Georgia National Junior Livestock Show and/or the Georgia National Fair. The exhibitor is responsible for full payment of costs incurred for any positive samples. Residue tests will be sent to a laboratory of show management’s choice.

If, at any time following the first ban, any market animal shown by that exhibitor tests positive for any residues, the exhibitor will be banned from the Georgia National Junior Livestock Show and the Georgia National Fair for the exhibitor’s junior show career.

If, at any time following the first ban, any breeding animal shown by that exhibitor tests positive for any unapproved drugs, prohibited drugs or drugs that are not under the prescription of a licensed veterinarian, the exhibitor will be banned from the Georgia National Junior Livestock Show and the Georgia National Fair for the exhibitor’s junior show career.

Refusal to submit animals for testing or cooperate in completion of minimum testing requirements will result in disqualification and subject the exhibitor to the same penalties provided for exhibitors whose animals test positive for drugs.

21. Protests: Any protests against eligibility or adherence to these rules and regulations must be filed as a written, signed statement with the show chairman accompanied by a $20.00 cash deposit. If the protest is not sustained by the grievance committee the deposit shall be forfeited to the Jr. Livestock Show. Protests will be accepted from 4-H or FFA exhibitors only.

All animals being exhibited in any type of livestock show (local, county, area, district, or state) must have an official certificate of veterinary inspection (health certificate). The Certificate of Veterinary Inspection must be issued within 30 days of the exhibition with the following exceptions:

In addition, all market animals must either be consigned directly to slaughter with no animals from the show grounds returning to a farm, or be consigned to another market show with confinement at the original show facility until movement. If market animals will be returning to a farm or if show management requires such, all animals on the show grounds must have proper certificates of veterinary inspection and must satisfy the appropriate test and identification requirements described below in the section "Farm Animal Livestock Requirements".
4. Georgia equine participating in Georgia equine shows will not require a certificate of veterinary inspection. (See complete equine requirements described below.)

GEORGIA MARKET GOAT CARCASS OF MERIT CONTEST

Objectives and Guidelines

Objectives:

1. Provide the opportunity for 4-H and FFA youth to gain additional recognition and premium money for selecting and raising market goats which have the meat characteristics making them most useful in the commercial goat meat trade.
2. Educate youth and adults about standardized goat grades and the carcass characteristics of market goat project animals in Georgia.
3. Establish a database to document the carcass characteristics and attributes of animals entered in the Georgia state market goat show.

Guidelines:

1. The Market Goat Carcass of Merit Contest (CMC) will occur in concert with the state market goat show during the Georgia National Fair (GNF).
2. Eligible participants include 4-H and FFA students in 7th – 12th grade in school.
3. Each exhibitor is entitled to enter only one market goat – wether or doe.
4. Goats entered in the CMC must have been entered and shown in the GNFlivemarket goat show.
5. CMC goats will use the same entry procedure as those entered in the live show but must indicate if they are entering an animal in the CMC. Specific goats entered must be declared by ear tag number and verified at weigh-in. CMS entries will be made state show entry form.
6. A maximum total number of entries in 2014 will be 40 - 50. Early entries will have first priority
7. Arbitration and judgment calls will be under the purview of the market goat show committee.

Processing and Evaluation Criteria:

1. The market goats will be loaded after the live show and transported to fall pastures for a 2-3 day rest prior to harvest and carcass evaluation at the FVSU Small Ruminant Center meat processing plant. Ultrasound values for ribeye area will be obtained if possible.
2. Carcass goats are to be market ready at harvest. No live goat selected for drug testing will be eligible to participate, because of quarantine requirements. Entry fee is returned in such a case.
3. Carcass evaluation and final placing will be based on several factors including USDA carcass grade, dressing percent, kidney-heart-pelvic fat, adjusted leg circumference, adjusted forearm circumference, loin-eye area, and yield of wholesale cuts relative to chilled carcass weight.
4. Final ranking and placing will be based on an index derived from a regression equation including a weighted value for each term in the equation. Exhibitors will receive results of all animals.

Financial/Premium Provisions:

1. Entry fee will be $20 per goat entered, which will contribute toward the premium money pool.
2. Sponsors are expected to provide additional premium funds to support awards of at least $500 1st place, $450 2nd place and subsequent $50 intervals through ten places. More generous awards will be made if justified by additional financial support.
3. Premiums will be paid through at least 10 placings, or as dictated by available funds and the ad hoc market goat subcommittee.
4. Goats will be purchased for the verified (USDA reported) prevailing market goat price in country markets during the week of the fair.
5. Awards will include premium money, ribbons or trophies as well as recognition in trade magazines, websites, and youth livestock program publications.
6. Entry fee will be returned to the exhibitor of any goat that dies from accident or unidentifiable reasons after leaving the Georgia National Fairgrounds and before slaughter.
